Foster Turns to Bethlehem

From the partial success of the strike in this city the union leaders will probably attempt to tie up the big Bethlehem Steel Company plants, President Grace of the Bethlehem Steel Company having refused to grant the steel workers committee a conference. The Bethlehem plants were not included in the last strike call as negotiations were still on.

Secretary Foster said that action by the national committee was necessary before the strike could be called. However, he added that he expected the committee would meet immediately. Foster claims the Bethlehem employees are well organized.

Men Return in Monongahala Valley

Reports of the morning shifts in the Monongahala Valley today were again that an increasing number of men reported.

Jones & Laughlin Unaffected Yet

Secretary Foster predicted that he would have the Jones & Laughlin plant of Pittsburgh closed by Thursday night. This is the biggest independent plant in the district. The plant claimed today, however, to be operating 100 per cent.

1200 Vote to Return at Canton

CANTON, Ohio, Sept. 26—Twelve hundred men employed by the Canton Steel company are reported by officials of the plant to have voted in favor of returning to work Sunday.

Shenango Valley Mills Resume

SHARON, Sept. 26—The steel mills in the Shenango valley are resuming operation. The plate mill of the Carnegie Steel corporation at Farrell resumed work today. Officials announced that the blast furnaces will be placed in operation tonight. Announcement is also made by officials of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company that the plant will be in operation next week. The Shenango furnaces at Sharpsville operated today after having been shut down since Monday.

Harrisburg Men Walk Out

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26—Three hundred employees of the Harrisburg Pipe Bending company, members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers went on strike here today following the refusal of the company to grant a 20 per cent increase. Officials of the union said the walk out was in sympathy with the general steel strike.

JOHNSON TAKES UP TRAIL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Senator Hiram Johnson was on his way to the Pacific coast with his five League of Nations questions in opposition to President Wilson's view. Johnson is to go to San Francisco and expects to make several speeches in California, Oregon and Washington.

PRETTY WEDDING
ON FRONT STREET
LAST EVENING

The home of W. C. Miller on West Front street was the scene of a very pretty wedding last evening when his daughter Julie Anne was united in marriage to Chester Boyd McCutlough son of Mr. and Mrs. George McCutlough of Tyrone, Pa.

The ceremony, which was the impressive ring ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by the Rev. E. C. Reeve of the Presbyterian church in the presence of more than one hundred and fifty friends.

The wedding party entered the parlor to the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march as rendered on the piano by Miss Alice Smith. The aisle through which the bride and groom marched was made of yellow satin ribbon with bow knots of roses and chrysanthemums. The altar was of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The bride who was given away by her father was attired in a white satin gown with orange blossoms, and a long court train falling from the shoulders. Her veil was of tulle with a head dress of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The mother of honor, Mrs. William Van Allen, of Northumberland, sister of the bride, was attired in a beautiful gown of yellow tulle over yellow satin and gold lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow tea roses.

The flower girl was little Nancy Catherine Van Allen and she carried a basket of yellow rose petals.

The best man was Arthur Pifer, of Tyrone, while the ushers were John Johnson, of Tyrone and Robert Mitchell.

The Miller home was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns, roses and oses and chrysanthemums—the color scheme being yellow and white.

Following the ceremony a symposium wedding dinner was served after which the bridal party left for Altoona in automobiles, where they took a main line train for the Eastern cities, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Tyrone, where the groom holds a responsible position with the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

COURT NOTES

L. D. McCall, Esq., entered suit in the Prothonotary's office yesterday on behalf of George M. Lang, of Cresson, and against G. L. Fletcher, Jr., which it is sought to recover $155.55 balance due on account of merchandise delivered.

Suit for divorce was begun by Pentz & Pentz on behalf of Sedo Tanory, who wishes to legally divorce himself of his wife Maggie Tanory, whom he married in June 1908, and who deserted him the following June.

Denies Having Struck Reposi
As Three Witnesses Have Testified That He Did

CASE WILL GO TO JURY TONIGHT

The Goon manslaughter case was resumed this morning. Yesterday the prosecution scored heavily when it produced three witnesses who swore they saw the defendant strike Reposi before he fell to the sidewalk and sustained the injury which resulted in his death.

When court was called this morning Dr. S. J. Waterworth, who attended Reposi after he was brought to the hospital, was called to the witness stand. Dr. Waterworth was asked to describe the skull fracture and give the cause of death. He stated that death was due to infection following the injury to the base of the skull.

W. H. Barger, constable of Brae-Jord township, was then called and he testified that he saw Mr. Goon the evening of January 27th and Goon told him that he had taken Reposi out of the hotel and that after he had left him on the sidewalk he had slipped and fell, hurting himself in the fall.

J. D. Connelly of The Progress, was called and testified that he had talked with Mr. Goon over the telephone following Reposi's death and he said Reposi had slipped and fallen on the sidewalk after he had taken him out of the hotel and had turned to go back in.

James Graffius was recalled and asked concerning his eyesight. He said he had consulted Dr. Bone and found one eye was blind and the sight of the other defective.

ABOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN NEAR WICHITA, KANSAS, Sept. 26—President Wilson suffering from an attack of nervous indigestion today started for Washington abandoning his League of Nations tour. The President in his private car dictated the following statement to the people of Kansas: "It is with sincere regret that I am unable to meet the fine people of Wichita to lay before them the facts regarding the treaty of peace and the League of Nations. I know without candor they would decide to greet this important matter. It is a disappointment to me that I must leave without having the pleasure of coming into personal contact with them."

Dr. Grayson and almost all of the President's close friends it was learned have ordered the tour abandoned. After word of the President's illness had reached Wichita many people rode out to where his special train was stationed. Secret service men formed a cordon about the private car and refused to allow anyone to approach it. They also made the people maintain silence so the President would not be disturbed.

case at 10:45 and after a few minutes' intermission A. M. Liveright opened for the defense, outlining the circumstances to the jury from the point of view of the defense. Mr. Liveright told the story of the accident as Mr. Goon told it to The Progress representative on the morning of February 10th, following Reposi's death at the hospital and promising to prove this contention out of the mouths of several eye-witnesses to the occurrence. Also that Reposi made such statement to Wagner, the man who took him from the hotel to his boarding house.

J. A. Goon himself was the first witness called by the defense. He told of Reposi's coming into the bar room and getting a couple of drinks and then getting into an altercation with Lemeth, one of the customers at the bar and he ordered Reposi to keep quiet and when he continued to call Lemeth names he went around the bar, took him by the right arm and led him out of the bar, thru the office and when he started to open the front door took him by the collar, opened the door, took him across the porch and down the steps onto the sidewalk where he stopped and telling Reposi to go on home started to return to the hotel. He had almost reached the top of the steps when he heard a noise and turning saw Reposi lying on the sidewalk with his feet pointing uphill and his head down, lying on the small walk from the porch out toward the main sidewalk. He went down the steps and pulled the man around, was about to pick him up to carry him into the hotel when Mr. Rhodes, one of the Commonwealth's witnesses, came out of the hotel and the two of them carried Reposi in and sat him down in a chair. Seeing the man was bleeding from the ear he sent Howard Ouden for a doctor to attend to him. He then detailed the arrival of Dr. Shively and the treatment of the injured man, who objected to being ministered to, saying "I don't want that." The doctor said he had better go home and Goon had a Mr. Wagner get his buggy and take the man to his boarding house. Said he did not hit him and did not know of the accident until he heard Reposi fall. On the Saturday following, Superintendent Fink of the Brick works, advised having the man taken to the hospital and after consulting Dr. Shively he took the man to the hospital the following Tuesday.

On cross examination he was asked if he had heard Reposi call him a vile name as he was going up the steps as testified to by Witness Rhodes, and he said he had not; also denied that he had told any person that he had slapped Reposi and that he had ever told anybody he was guilty in this case.

The prosecution scored an extra strong point in its manner of presenting the opportunity to Mr. Goon to deny the allegations of the three main witnesses. District Attorney Arnold asked Mr. Goon if he had heard the testimony of Mr. Graffius and Mr. Goon said that he had.

"Do you remember that?" he was asked "I do."

"Did you hear the testimony of Mr. Rhodes?"

"I did."

"Did you hear the testimony of Mr. Liveright?"

"I did."

A. M. Liveright opened for the defense at 3 o'clock and the case will go to the jury late this evening.

HEADLINES, FACTS, AND A REPLY TO THE PHILIPSBURG JOURNAL

A recent article in the editorial column of the Philipsburg Journal contained the following statement:

"The following quoted sentences appeared as headlines in the newspapers to which they are credited last evening. It is obviously certain that both are not truthful statements, and the probability is that neither is strictly correct. We print them merely to show that the success or failure of a project of the nature which Mr. Wilson has undertaken depends largely on the interpretation given it by the different newspapers. If his speaking tour is a success, it is so only to the extent of the correct publicity given it, and it is a failure measured by the same standard. It is little wonder the American public is confused over different issues:

"Wilson's tour fruitless."—Clearfield Progress.

"President Wilson leaves Pacific coast triumphant."—Altoona Mirror.

We have looked in vain for any such headline as is credited to The Altoona Mirror. We do, however, find the quoted words used as the opening sentence in an article under the name plate of David Lawrence, free lance correspondent who in addition to being an entertaining and able writer is quite apt at writing from a propaganda standpoint.

Let us quote a few paragraphs from the article by Lawrence as follows:

President Wilson leaves the Pacific coast triumphant. That is an extreme statement to make and will be disputed by those who look at the League of Nations as a political question or as someone akin to the prestige or political fortunes of Woodrow Wilson. But the idea, not necessarily the man, has triumphed.

Not only such demonstrations of enthusiasm, but such quick perception of the logic of the argument, such as readiness to accept the plain language of the treaty of peace, rather than the inferences and implications read into the document by men who seek not its revision or perfection, but its absolute defeat, such spontaneous acclaim as the Pacific coast has given editorially, vocally, politically and otherwise can have but one meaning to any one who forgets the hypocrisy of both the Democratic and Republican party and their respective demagogues and observes mass impulse, mass reasoning and mass demand."

It will be noticed that Mr. Lawrence does not offer anything substantial to qualify his statement in the first sentence. The balance of his lengthy article is simply a reporters story of the Los Angeles speech.

Now the following is what The Progress had to say and we believe the headline was proper. The Journal probably knows that a headline is not strictly a statement of fact or an editorial, but rather, it is to the article following what the label is to the can of pure food. Here is The Progress article:

"President Wilson today swung north on the first leg of his tour from the west toward the White House. Since he left Washington many senators have swung into the reservationist class and there is no evidence that the opponents of the league have changed their minds. Aside from the tumultuous cheering and warm reception given the Chief Executive there is no indication that the people who have heard him have started out with clubs to beat their senators into line on the treaty. When the President returns to Washington he will face an even more hostile Senate than when he left it—and small wonder—when he devoted so much time to their ridicule."

President Wilson started out with the expressed and avowed purpose of brow beating Senators into line. If he has succeeded, we demand the proof. Otherwise our headline stands. David Lawrence and the Journal notwithstanding.

Now just one parting shot. Does the Journal know that this free lance David Lawrence was two years ago credited with being the newspaper man who was in the closest touch with President Wilson and his policies and that many people looked to him as a sort of semi-official spokesman of the Wilson administration.

In fairness to all concerned and especially because of the error in comparison between headline and news sentence we ask The Journal to publish this article entire.

MANUFACTURED LOVE

That love can be manufactured ad lib by the external application to any random couple, of a salad composed of soft and penetrating moonlight, Oriental incense, sweet sonatas on the violin, a lyric love sonnet or two, be-pillowed settee romantically illuminated, and numerous like amorous accessories, is the amazing and novel theory about which William Le Baron has woven "I Love You," the farce comedy which G. M. Anderson sends to the Driggs Theatre, Monday night.

The attempts to demonstrate the plausibility of the theory at the expense of three or more less unsuspecting couples in the story, forms enough laughing material to cloak two ordinary farces, and it is material that is not frescoed with any of the suggestive stratagems and thin-film episodes so common in present-day farce writing. "I Love You" is replete with laughs, but is free from blushes. The characters of the play appear on the stage fully clothed and remain so throughout the action of the story. This is a striking departure from modern farce comedy methods that will be appreciated by lovers of clean wholesome wit and incidents that are amusing without being impossible.

The Lack of a Lalley Is Costing You Money

You may not realize it, but it is absolutely true that you are losing money by not having Lalley Electric Light and Power.

More than that, the longer you do without it, the more money you lose.

On top of that, you are losing time and labor, because of the work Lalley power would do, and the time its light and power would save.

You see, then, that Lalley-Light is an important factor in your farm work and your home life.

We believe every man wants to make an investment that pays for itself.

That is exactly what the Lalley does with its savings, according to its owners.

We can do no less than to urge you to buy your Lalley plant now.

CAN SELL WHISKY FOR MEDICAL USE BUT NOT FOR PROFIT

During the course of the trial Judge Keppel, in his usual manner, said: "This law holds that the sale of whisky for beverage purposes is prohibited. But there is nothing in the statute which prohibits the sale of whisky for medicinal purposes. But the person who sells whisky for medicinal purposes must be certain that it is to be used for medicinal purposes and that a plea of illness is not a mere sham and a pretense. And I charge you that, as a matter of law, the sale of whisky for medicinal purposes is not a violation of the wartime prohibition law."

Following this announcement the court threw a bolt into the saloonkeepers by stating that the maximum penalty under the law would be imposed on proprietors of saloons who were convicted of selling "whisky for profit". The penalty is one year in prison and $1,000 fine for each offense.

Atlantic Gasoline—Master of Miles

Season-mileage looms big on the meter of the car propelled by Atlantic Gasoline. For, when Atlantic was originally created, the table of linear measurement was incorporated in the formula.

Therefore, Atlantic Gasoline has the stretch that makes each wheel a reel, unwinding miles and miles of ribbon-roads. That is its measure of worth, so to speak.

For consistent, month-upon-month mileage, there is one motor-fuel that answers "present". Its name is Atlantic Gasoline, and it has no doubles or near-relatives. Absolutely none.

RECRUITING OFFICE IN THIS CITY

Sergeant John Gable of the Williamsport station of the U. S. army recruiting service will visit Clearfield today and remain until next Monday. He will be prepared to answer all questions regarding War Risk Insurance, allotment farm land for discharged soldiers, opportunities for learning a trade or profession in the army, the terms of enlistment, etc. Sergeant Gable will have with him some booklets, Where Do We Go From Here, which will be of special benefit to discharged soldiers and sailors. These booklets contain practically all the information that most men are in doubt about. The booklets may be obtained from the Sergeant by asking for them. The Sergeant will also be ready to examine all men that may care to enlist in the army. The periods of enlistments are for one or three years in all branches for men with previous service. Men without previous service may enlist in the quartermaster and medical corps for one year and for three years in all the other branches. Service may be had in the United States, Alaska, Philippine Islands, Panama Canal, Hawaiian Islands and Siberia.

The enlistments are also open for the American Expeditionary forces in Europe, period of enlistment are for one year for previous service men and three for all others.

The rates of pay are from $30 per month to $105 per month and these rates are to continue in force.

CURWENSVILLE

Walter Montz, of this place and Miss Lillian Taylor of Luthersburg, were quietly united in wedlock last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Montz, father and mother of the groom. Rev. Mr. Biddle, pastor of the M. E. church, performed the ceremony. The newly weds will reside in Curwensville.

Mrs. Belle Ames and two sons Russell and Don came in from Warren, Ohio, yesterday to attend the funeral of Miss Nellie Patterson, which took place this afternoon. Russell reports all of Curwensville people in that city getting along nicely and working at jobs in which good money is to be made. He had not heard of any who went from there wanting to return to Curwensville.

A small riot occurred at the intersection of State and Filbert streets on Wednesday evening in which four or five young men participated. After the "war" was over all who were engaged in the melee were taken before Burgess Traister who fined each of them in accordance with their activities in disturbing the peace.

Messrs. Howard Crowmover and F. F. Tate, accompanied by their families were at Grampian yesterday attending the fair.

William Twigg, Sr., and daughter, Miss Esther, returned yesterday from a two weeks jaunt to New York, Atlantic City, Pittsburgh and other cities of minor importance.

James Maxwell foreman of the Herald, returned home Wednesday evening after a week's visit in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

John R. Bixler, editor of the Herald, is confined to his home by illness.

Charles Bowers, who operates several coal banks on the South Side, is able to be about again and attend to business after an illness of several weeks duration.

According to tabulation there were 26 births and 6 deaths during the month of August in the district of Raymond Wingert. His district is composed of Pike and Bloom townships, Curwensville borough.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hileman and daughter who have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Daub on Ridge avenue, have gone back to their home in Huntingdon county. They left their daughter in care of Dr. Waterworth who will treat her for chronic appendicitis.

The funeral of Miss Nellie Patterson was held from the home of D. C. Henschberger this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Biddle, pastor of the M. E. church, having charge of the services. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

The social held in the basement of the M. E. church, under the auspices of the Live Wire class, last evening was a most enjoyable affair and largely attended by members of the class and their friends. The entertainment provided for was most heartily enjoyed, especially the refreshment part of it.

A shower was given to Raymond Smith and his bride, at their home on Saucenhanna avenue. The young couple were the recipients of many useful household articles.

Joe Millon and wife who resided on the South Side until recently, have gone to Canton, Ohio.

The dance at Grampian last evening with good "jazz" music and lots of pep" took a number of young folks from this place in that direction.

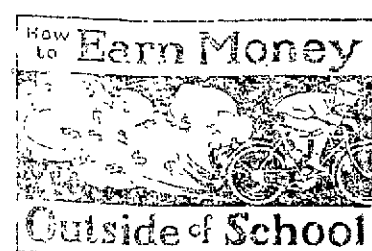

Burr, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hines, south Filbert street, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKenrick, a fine son. To say that Grandma Hines is delighted over the event is putting it rather mildly.

Mrs. Edward Drake of Huntingdon county is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Daub on Ridge avenue.

Mrs. William Twigg, Sr., is ill at the home of her daughter Mrs. John P. Iron.

Today is set apart at Grampian fair and designated as "Old Soldier" day.

THIS COLUMN FOR BOYS AND GIRLS AND PARENTS

Earning Money

By J. H. Miller, Director

Boys and Girls Newspaper Service

According to the American Magazine

the boy in America is the richest boy in the world. His success is due to his happy way of accommodating people. For example, whenever a man of importance comes to his house, Mose is at the train to hand him

the latest copy of his home paper as soon as he gets off. This one original trick has earned wide-spread fame.

More boys earn money outside of school by selling papers than by any other way. It would pay them well to try to be real salesmen like Mose

and not just ordinary newsies.

It pays—in business, not in tips—to be accommodating. At Monroe and

Wells streets, Chicago, a courteous

newsie who has a stand by a mail-

box. He opens the flap of that mailbox

for everybody that has a letter to mail

here. His business is good.

A boy with a smile has a dollar sign

light on his face. Last winter at Columbus Circle in New York, there was a newsstand with a heavy curtain to keep out the cold. All the customers ever saw was a hand thrust forth from the darkness to get his pennies. Men have walked a block to avoid buying a paper there. It would pay the dealer

well to clad himself in a warm overcoat

and a warmer smile, and look the public

squarely in the eye. After all, smiles

are not very common on the street.

This is why the newsboy that has one is so quickly noticed.

It pays a newsboy, just as it pays any other salesman, to be clean and neat.

More a man has walked across the street to lay a power from a clean,

neatly kept car, although right by him

there was a dirty, arching shouting at the top of his voice the headlines of his newspaper.

These hints are simply little things,

but they are salesmanship. They mean money.

(This series comes every Friday.

Read it and make money on Saturday.

Next week the newsboy that has one is so quickly noticed. "Profits from a Cellafactory.")

FARMERS SHOULD MAKE USE

OF MANURE

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—Loss to

Pennsylvania farmers, through the careless handling of manure, aggregates thousands of dollars, the Department of Agriculture declared in a statement issued recently.

Compared with the prices of fertilizer, the manure accumulating in Pennsylvania during a year is worth

$37,750,000, the department claims.

In some sections of the state, it is held, farmers are ignoring the department's advice concerning the value of the fertilizer and allowing it to accumulate without intending to use it.

Instances have come to the attention of the department where farmers have allowed fertilizer companies to have the manure for their trouble in hauling it away.

Famous Italian engineers are preparing one of the most amazing schemes ever suggested in order to make Italy as independent of foreign coal as possible. These schemes are no less than to harness the many volcanoes which belch forth fire and smoke and steam, and convert the unexhaustible energy into electric ty.

When mother drives the auto, Dad,

why does she make so much noise with the gears? You never do.

Well, sonny, when she shifts gears,

she does not give the clutch-shaft time

to stop spinning.

What is the clutch-shaft, Dad?

It's this short shaft here between the clutch and the gear-box. (See drawing.)

It's put in there so that you can disconnect the engine to shift from one speed to another. By pressing the clutch pedal and moving the gear lever

you really disconnect the clutch-shaft

at both ends. Otherwise you couldn't shift gears without smashing something

See here. When you push down the clutch pedal, you release the clutch-

shaft from the clutch so that the engine is running free. And so, when the clutch is out and the gear lever is in neutral, the clutch-shaft stands still because the rear end is not meshed with any gears in the gear-box. When you move the lever into first speed, or second, or third, you are making the engine mesh the clutch-shaft with one or another. That's what you mean mean.

Our mother makes the gears clut-

because she has not learned by feeling how long to hold the lever in neutral to let the disconnected clutch-shaft stop.

But, Dad, why do you have to shift

gears?

Because gasoline engines have little power when they run slowly. In first

speed for high gears, the engine shaft

revolves about 10 times while the rear

axle shaft revolves once. If the car is running very slowly or standing still

such a gear ratio would make the motor

run so slowly that it would have scarcely any power. And so for starting and hard pulls, the car has a first speed to low gear which enables it to start to make perhaps 15 or 20 revolutions and over the axle once. Then it has power. Second speed is halfway between the other two.

series next Friday, and then will you understand why the electric train doesn't

Top Coats Are Full and Soft

Already coats for winter, both in cloth and fur, have passed and are daily passing in review before merchants and buyers and reporters who publish the styles. Certainly no winter was ever heralded by more comfortable or more becoming garments. They are fuller than last year's models and the same materials that were so successful then are used to make them. Duvetyne, velours and similar cloths appear in lighter weights than last year so that top coats and suits may be full and draped without being clumsy. This ampleness of cloth makes the top coat easy to slip on and off and adds to its warmth, and there is room under it for painters and other arrangements of drapery for wide hip effects. These are fairly well established in the styles and must be reckoned with. Heavy homespun are used in some of the handsome and practical new models.

Collars are either of fur or of the cloth in the coat. They are very cozy looking in either case. The fur collars are wide and fit snugly, coming up about the face and chin and very high at the back. The cloth collars are managed so as to give the same effect of coziness with the face snugly closed down into them; very often they button across at the front and become a small cape when unbuttoned.

The coat shown in the picture is a good example of the new styles in substantial and practical top coats. It is of heavy cloth and therefore not as full as dressier models. Its narrow belt of the cloth fastens at one side, and its very odd and smart cuffs are finished with a single large button. The pockets are set in. This coat is long and reaches to within six inches of the bottom of the dress skirt, which is almost fasten length. Its collar could hardly be improved upon. For street wear or motoring or as a steamer coat this model may be worn with assurance. And the silk hat trimmed with flared ribbon that bears its company is of just the same character as the coat.

SCHOOL NOTES

Thursday morning cheer leaders were elected. Harry Cochrane '20 was elected chief with Allen Rockwell '20 and William Ammerman '21 as assistants.

Coach Heisey made a plea for more football material Thursday. Probably the boys think one scrimmage a week with green material isn't enough for a team. In some cases it was the first and only scrimmage the boys had been in and they generally need all the experience they can get.

"Les" Bowes former star on the C. H. S. team and E. Shirey are helping the coach whip the "greenies" into shape. Tuesday evening Mgr. Ventres had his crew to work putting up the goal posts.

Margaret Jane Overly received a bad cut on the hand Wednesday afternoon. She accidentally ran into one of the glass doors.

The Juniors have selected their class pins and rings.

Students are selling tickets for the Johnsonburg game Saturday. By the number of tags everybody will be there.

Laboratory work started this week in the science department.

In England it is possible to insure yourself against your daughter making an undesirable marriage, against your son taking to drink or dissipation, against your wife running away, or, if she is insane, against her recovering her sanity and cutting you out of her will.

LOCAL SPORTING
MAGNATE PUTS UP
FINE EXHIBITION

The wrestling bout at the Friendly Two Hall, under the auspices of Manager Davis, of the Clearfield Athletic Club, attracted a fair sized crowd of local sports last evening, and they well repaid for their attendance.

In addition to the main bout of the evening, four preliminaries were put on, and each contest was well worth seeing.

The Meise boys, 115 pound midgets, were first on the card, and these lads, who have only been in training about three months, gave a very good account of themselves in a ten minute bout.

Crebs and Leonard, 135 pound contenders, were the next pair to go to it, and these lads wrestled a whirlwind draw in ten minutes. These boys were up to all the fine points of the game, and gave a very creditable exhibition.

Beck and Cornelius, a husky pair of 150 pounders, then hopped onto the mat and hugged and tugged each other about the "squared circle" in a manner which brought the spectators to their feet in their excitement. The Woodland "fog horn" blew constantly during this battle and added to the fun and excitement of the occasion. The boys were pretty evenly matched and neither was able to gain a fall during the ten minutes they were working.

The final preliminary was a boxing match between "Battling Bennoch", the Third Ward terror, and "Lanky Lanager," of the Fourth Ward. Lanky was a little heavy for the "batter" but the boys put up a stirring three round bout and were loudly cheered when Referee Edwards announced the contest a draw.

The main card of the evening was the wrestling match between Bill Gardner, Clearfield's unbeatable champion, and Harry Mayo, of Altoona, who claims the 145 pound championship of the U. S. Navy, having been a member of the crew of the U. S. Battleship Massachusetts, during the war.

Manager Bennett made a little address before the bout, in which he introduced his man Mayo to the audience and recited the victories he had won during his career.

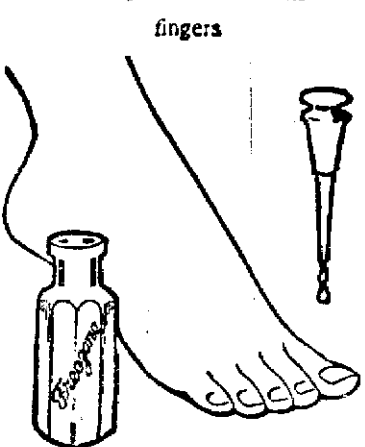

After calling the men to the centre of the ring, Referee Edwards instructed them as to the rules of the contest and at the call of time told them to go to it. They immediately grappled and inside of half a minute, Gardner yanked the Blair County grappler off his feet and raising him over his head, threw him to the mat with a crash, which took all the pep out of the sailor. He was game however, and struggled manfully, but securing a double bar lock, Gardner twisted him over, and in a little less than ten minutes, pinned his shoulders to the canvas.

After a seven minute rest, the men went on again, but the second round was simply a repetition of the first, only more so. Gardner handled his adversary exactly the same way, and dumped him so hard to the mat that he lost all interest in the game, and Gardner won the second fall in three minutes and forty seven seconds, while the crowd went wild over his victory.

Gardner demonstrated once more in this contest, that he is a corner, and able to hold his own with the very best of his weight. He simply outclassed the Altoona man, who never had a chance with him.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No hump!

PRESIDENT ILL, ABANDONS TOUR AND IS RETURNING TO THE WHITE HOUSE

INDUSTRIAL STRUGGLE NO NEARER AN END

ALTHOUGH REPORTS INDICATE THAT MEN IN LARGE NUMBERS ARE RETURNING TO FURNACES

ONE OF FARRELL MILLS TO START

Foster Turns to Bethlehem

From the partial success of the strike in this city the union leaders will probably attempt to tie up the big Bethlehem Steel Company plants, President Grace of the Bethlehem Steel Company having refused to grant the steel workers committee a conference. The Bethlehem plants were not included in the last strike call as negotiations were still on.

Secretary Foster said that action by the national committee was necessary before the strike could be called. However, he added that he expected the committee would meet immediately. Foster claims the Bethlehem employees are well organized.

Jones & Laughlin Unaffected Yet

Secretary Foster predicted that he would have the Jones & Laughlin plant of Pittsburgh closed by Thursday night. This is the biggest independent plant in the district. The plant claimed today, however, to be operating 100 per cent.

1200 Vote to Return at Canton

CANTON, Ohio, Sept. 26—Twelve hundred men employed by the Canton Steel company are reported by officials of the plant to have voted in favor of returning to work Sunday.

Shenango Valley Mills Resume

SHARON, Sept. 26—The steel mills in the Shenango valley are resuming operation. The plate mill of the Carnegie Steel corporation at Farrell resumed work today. Officials announced that the blast furnaces will be placed in operation tonight. Announcement is also made by officials of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company that the plant will be in operation next week. The Shenango furnaces at Sharpsville operated today after having been shut down since Monday.

Harrisburg Men Walk Out

HARRISBURG, Sept. 26—Three hundred employees of the Harrisburg Pipe Bending company, members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers went on strike here today following the refusal of the company to grant a 20 per cent increase. Officials of the union said the walk out was in sympathy with the general steel strike.

JOHNSON TAKES UP TRAIL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—Senator Hiram Johnson was on his way to the Pacific coast with his five League of Nations questions in opposition to President Wilson's view. Johnson is to go to San Francisco and expects to make several speeches in California, Oregon and Washington.

PRETTY WEDDING ON FRONT STREET LAST EVENING

The home of W. C. Miller on West Front street was the scene of a very pretty wedding last evening when his daughter Julie Anne was united in marriage to Chester Boyd McCullough son of Mr. and Mrs. George McCullough of Tyrone, Pa.

The ceremony, which was the impressive ring ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by the Rev. E. C. Reeve of the Presbyterian church in the presence of more than one hundred and fifty friends.

The wedding party entered the parlor to the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march as rendered on the piano by Miss Alice Smith. The aisle through which the bride and groom marched was made of yellow satin ribbon with bow knots of roses and chrysanthemums. The altar was of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The bride who was given away by her father was attired in a white satin gown with orange blossoms, and a long court train falling from the shoulders. Her veil was of tulle with a head dress of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The nation of honor, Mrs. William Van Allen, of Northumberland, sister of the bride, was attired in a beautiful gown of yellow tulle over yellow satin and gold lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow tea roses.

The flower girl was little Nancy Catherine Van Allen and she carried a basket of yellow rose petals.

The best man was Arthur Pifer, of Tyrone, while the ushers were John Johnson, of Tyrone and Robert Mitchell.

The Miller home was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns, roses and chrysanthemums—the color scheme being yellow and white. Following the ceremony a symposium wedding dinner was served after which the bridal party left for Altoona in automobiles, where they took a main line train for the Eastern cities, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Tyrone, where the groom holds a responsible position with the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

GOON ON STAND TODAY ON HIS OWN BEHALF

Denies Having Struck Reposi's Three Witnesses Have Testified That He Did

CASE WILL GO TO JURY TONIGHT

The Goon manslaughter case was resumed this morning. Yesterday the prosecution scored heavily when it produced three witnesses who swore they saw the defendant strike Reposi before he fell to the sidewalk and sustained the injury which resulted in his death.

When court was called this morning Dr. S. J. Waterworth, who attended Reposi after he was brought to the hospital, was called to the witness stand. Dr. Waterworth was asked to describe the skull fracture and give the cause of death. He stated that death was due to infection following the injury to the base of the skull.

W. H. Barger, constable of Braddock township, was then called and he testified that he saw Mr. Goon the evening of January 27th and Goon told him that he had taken Reposi out of the hotel and that after he had left him on the sidewalk he had slipped and fell, hurting himself in the fall.

J. D. Connelly of The Progress, was called and testified that he had talked with Mr. Goon over the telephone following Reposi's death and he said Reposi had slipped and fallen on the sidewalk after he had taken him out of the hotel and had turned to go back in.

James Graffius was recalled and asked concerning his eyesight. He said he had consulted Dr. Bone and found one eye was blind and the sight of the other defective.

ABOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN NEAR WICHITA, KANSAS, Sept. 26—President Wilson suffering from an attack of nervous indigestion today started for Washington abandoning his League of Nations tour. The President in his private car dictated the following statement to the people of Kansas: "It is with sincere regret that I am unable to meet the fine people of Wichita to lay before them the facts regarding the treaty of peace and the League of Nations. I know without candor they would decide to greet this important matter. It is a disappointment to me that I must leave without having the pleasure of coming into personal contact with them."

Dr. Grayson and almost all of the President's close friends it was learned have ordered the tour abandoned. After word of the President's illness had reached Wichita many people rode out to where his special train was stationed. Secret service men formed a cordon about the private car and refused to allow anyone to approach it. They also made the people maintain silence so the President would not be disturbed.

case at 10:45 and after a few minutes' intermission A. M. Liveright opened for the defense, outlining the circumstances to the jury from the point of view of the defense. Mr. Liveright told the story of the accident as Mr. Goon told it to The Progress representative on the morning of February 10th, following Reposi's death at the hospital and promising to prove this contention out of the mouths of several eye-witnesses to the occurrence. Also that Reposi made such statement to Wagner, the man who took him from the hotel to his boarding house.

J. A. Goon himself was the first witness called by the defense. He told of Reposi's coming into the bar room and getting a couple of drinks and then getting into an altercation with Lemeth, one of the customers at the bar and he ordered Reposi to keep quiet and when he continued to call Lemeth names he went around the bar, took him by the right arm and led him out of the bar, thru the office and when he started to open the front door took him by the collar, opened the door, took him across the porch and down the steps onto the sidewalk where he stopped and telling Reposi to go on home started to return to the hotel. He had almost reached the top of the steps when he heard a noise and turning saw Reposi lying on the sidewalk with his feet pointing uphill and his head down, lying on the small walk from the porch out toward the main sidewalk. He went down the steps and pulled the man around, was about to pick him up to carry him into the hotel when Mr. Rhodes, one of the Commonwealth's witnesses, came out of the hotel and the two of them carried Reposi in and sat him down in a chair. Seeing the man was bleeding from the ear he sent Howard Ouden for a doctor to attend to him. He then detailed the arrival of Dr. Shively and the treatment of the injured man, who objected to being ministered to, saying "I don't want that." The doctor said he had better go home and Goon had a Mr. Wagner get his buggy and take the man to his boarding house. Said he did not hit him and did not know of the accident until he heard Reposi fall. On the Saturday following, Superintendent Fink of the Brick works, advised having the man taken to the hospital and after consulting Dr. Shively he took the man to the hospital the following Tuesday.

On cross examination he was asked if he had heard Reposi call him a vile name as he was going up the steps as testified to by witness Rhodes, and he said he had not; also denied that he had told any person that he had slapped Reposi and that he had ever told anybody he was guilty in this case.

The prosecution scored an extra strong point in its manner of presenting the opportunity to Mr. Goon to deny the allegations of the three main witnesses. District Attorney Arnold asked Mr. Goon if he had heard the testimony of Mr. Graffius and Mr. Goon said that he had not.

"Did you hear the testimony of Mr. Wagner?"

"I did."

A. M. Liveright opened for the defense at 3 o'clock and the case will go to the jury late this evening.

HEADLINES, FACTS, AND A REPLY TO THE PHILIPSBURG JOURNAL

A recent article in the editorial column of the Philipsburg Journal contained the following statement:

"The following quoted sentences appeared as headlines in the newspapers to which they are credited last evening. It is obviously certain that both are not truthful statements, and the probability is that neither is strictly correct. We print them merely to show that the success or failure of a project of the nature which Mr. Wilson has undertaken depends largely on the interpretation given it by the different newspapers. If his speaking tour is a success, it is so only to the extent of the correct publicity given it, and it is a failure measured by the same standard. It is little wonder the American public is confused over different issues."

"Wilson's tour fruitless."—Clearfield Progress.

"President Wilson leaves Pacific coast triumphant."—Altoona Mirror.

We have looked in vain for any such headline as is credited to the Altoona Mirror. We do, however, find the quoted words used as the opening sentence in an article under the name of David Lawrence, free lance correspondent who in addition to being an entertaining and able writer is quite apt at writing from a propaganda standpoint.

Let us quote a few paragraphs from the article by Lawrence as follows:

President Wilson leaves the Pacific coast triumphant. That is an extreme statement to make and will be disputed by those who look at the League of Nations as a political question or as someone akin to the prestige or political fortunes of Woodrow Wilson. But the idea, not necessarily the man, has triumphed.

Not only such demonstrations of enthusiasm, but such quick perception of the logic of the argument, such as readiness to accept the plain language of the treaty of peace, rather than the inferences and implications read into the document by men who seek not its revision or perfection, but its absolute defeat, such spontaneous acclaim as the Pacific coast has given editorially, vocally, politically and otherwise can have but one meaning to any one who forgets the hypocrisy of both the Democratic and Republican party and their respective demagogues and observes mass impulse, mass reasoning and mass demand.

It will be noticed that Mr. Lawrence does not offer anything substantial to qualify his statement in the first sentence. The balance of his lengthy article is simply a reporters story of the Los Angeles speech.

Now the following is what The Progress had to say and we believe the headline was proper. The Journal probably knows that a headline is not strictly a statement of fact or an editorial, but rather, it is to the article following what the label is to the can of pure food. Here is The Progress article:

"President Wilson today swung north on the first leg of his tour from the west toward the White House. Since he left Washington many senators have swung into the reservationist class and there is no evidence that the opponents of the league have changed their minds. Aside from the tumultuous cheering and warm reception given the Chief Executive there is no indication that the people who have heard him have started out with clubs. At their senators into line in the treaty. When the President returns to Washington he will face an even more hostile Senate than when he left it—and small wonder—when he devoted so much time to their ridicule."

President Wilson started out with the expressed and avowed purpose of brow beating Senators into line. If he has succeeded, we demand the proof. Otherwise our headline stands. David Lawrence and the Journal notwithstanding.

Now just one parting shot. Does the Journal know that this free lance David Lawrence was two years ago credited with being the newspaper man who was in the closest touch with President Wilson and his policies and that many people looked to him as a sort of semi-official spokesman of the Wilson administration.

In fairness to all concerned and especially because of the error in comparison between headline and news sentence we ask The Journal to publish this article entire.

That love can be manufactured ad lib by the external application to any random couple, of a salad composed of soft and penetrating moonlight, Oriental incense, sweet sonatas on the violin, a lyric love sonnet or two, be-pillowed settee romantically illuminated, and numerous like amorous accessories, is the amazing and novel theory about which William Le Baron has woven "I Love You," the farce comedy which G. M. Anderson sends to the Driggs Theatre, Monday night.

The attempts to demonstrate the plausibility of the theory at the expense of three or more less unsuspecting couples in the story, forms enough laughing material to cloak two ordinary farces, and it is material that is not frescoed with any of the suggestive stratagems and thin-faceted episodes so common in present-day farce writing. "I Love You" is replete with laughs, but is free from blushes. The characters of the play appear on the stage fully clothed and remain so throughout the action of the story. This is a striking departure from modern farce comedy methods that will be appreciated by lovers of clean wholesome wit and incidents that are amusing without being impossible.

Why We Welcome Small Accounts

Many people believe that a bank does not want small accounts.

In such accounts, however, the profits are mutual.

The bank that encourages small accounts often sees them grow into large ones.

The possession of a bank account inspires the depositor to saving habits and teaches him to be business-like.

We are glad to serve the small depositor, believing his connection with the bank will benefit both him and ourselves.

The Lack of a Lalley Is Costing You Money

You may not realize it, but it is absolutely true that you are losing money by not having Lalley Electric Light and Power.

More than that, the longer you do without it, the more money you lose.

On top of that, you are losing time and labor, because of the work Lalley power would do, and the time its light and power would save.

You see, then, that Lalley-Light is an important factor in your farm work and your home life.

We believe every man wants to make an investment that pays for itself.

That is exactly what the Lalley does with its savings, according to its owners.

We can do no less than to urge you to buy your Lalley plant now.

CAN SELL WHISKY FOR MEDICAL USE BUT NOT FOR PROFIT

From a physician opened the way for supplies of whisky. Opinions were expressed that similar prescriptions will now be sought to relieve "pain in the stomach" and other ailments.

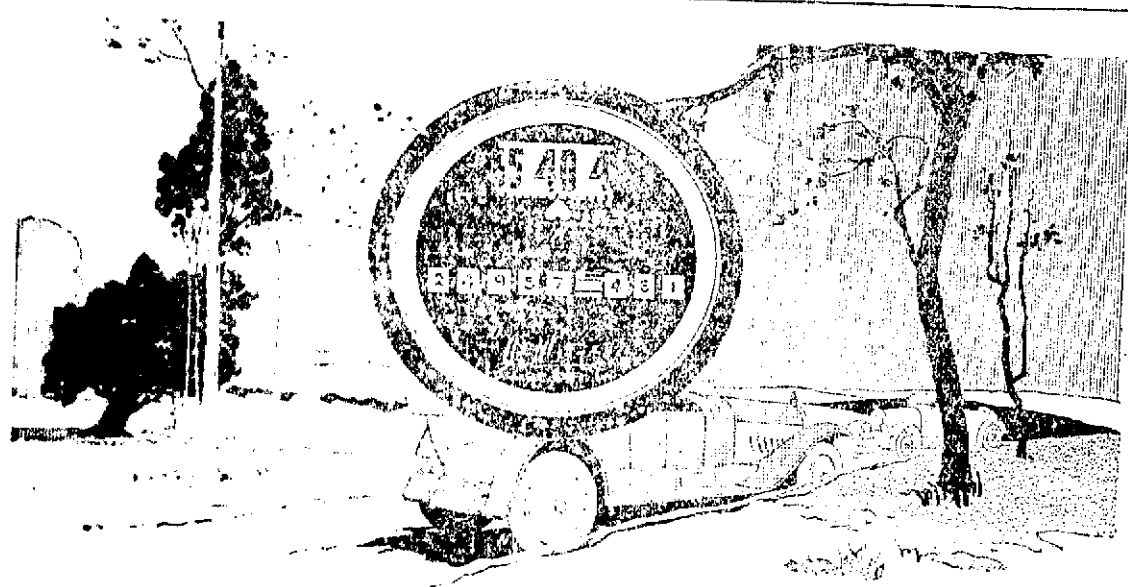

During the course of the trial Judge Keppel, in medical purposes is not a violation of the wartime prohibition law.

This law holds that the sale of whisky for beverage purposes is prohibited. But there is nothing in the statute which prohibits the sale of whisky for medicinal purposes. But the person using the whisky must be certain that it is to be used for medicinal purposes and that a plea of illness is not a mere sham and a pretense. And I charge you that, as a matter of law, the sale of whisky for medicinal purposes is not a violation of the wartime prohibition law.

Following this announcement the court threw a jolt into the saloonkeepers by stating that the maximum penalty under the law would be imposed on proprietors of saloons who were convicted of selling "whisky for profit". The penalty is one year in prison and $1,000 fine for each offense.

Atlantic Gasoline—Master of Miles

Season-mileage looms big on the meter of the car propelled by Atlantic Gasoline. For, when Atlantic was originally created, the table of linear measurement was incorporated in the formula.

Therefore, Atlantic Gasoline has the stretch that makes each wheel a reel, unwinding miles and miles of ribbon-roads. That is its measure of worth, so to speak.

For consistent, month-upon-month mileage, there is one motor-fuel that answers "present". Its name is Atlantic Gasoline, and it has no doubles or near-relatives. Absolutely none.

Walter Montz, of this place and Miss Lillian Taylor of Luthersburg, were quietly united in wedlock last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Montz, father and mother of the groom. Rev. Mr. Biddle, pastor of the M. E. church, performed the ceremony. The newly weds will reside in Curwensville.

Mrs. Belle Ames and two sons Russell and Don came in from Warren, Ohio, yesterday to attend the funeral of Miss Nellie Patterson, which took place this afternoon. Russell reports all of Curwensville people in that city getting along nicely and working at jobs in which good money is to be made. He had not heard of any who went from there wanting to return to Curwensville.

A small riot occurred at the intersection of State and Filbert streets on Wednesday evening in which four or five young men participated. After the "war" was over all who were engaged in the melee were taken before Burgess Traister who fined each of them in accordance with their activities in disturbing the peace.

Messrs. Howard Crowmover and F. F. Tate, accompanied by their families were at Grampian yesterday attending the fair.

William Twigg, Sr., and daughter, Miss Esther, returned yesterday from a two weeks jaunt to New York, Atlantic City, Pittsburgh and other cities of minor importance.

James Maxwell foreman of the Herald, returned home Wednesday evening after a week's visit in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

John R. Bixler, editor of the Herald, is confined to his home by illness.

Charles Bowers, who operates several coal banks on the South Side, is able to be about again and attend to business after an illness of several weeks duration.

According to tabulation there were 26 births and 6 deaths during the month of August in the district of Raymond Wingert. His district is composed of Pike and Bloom townships, Curwensville borough.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hileman and daughter who have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Daub on Ridge avenue, have gone back to their home in Huntingdon county. They left their daughter in care of Dr. Waterworth who will treat her for chronic appendicitis.

The funeral of Miss Nellie Patterson was held from the home of D. C. Henschberger this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Biddle, pastor of the M. E. church, having charge of the services. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

The social held in the basement of the M. E. church, under the auspices of the Live Wire class, last evening was a most enjoyable affair and largely attended by members of the class and their friends. The entertainment provided for was most heartily enjoyed, especially the refreshment part of it.

A shower was given to Raymond Smith and his bride, at their home on Saucubanna avenue. The young couple were the recipients of many useful household articles.

Joe Mallon and wife who resided on the South Side until recently, have gone to Canton, Ohio.

The dance at Grampian last evening with good "jazz" music and lots of pep" took a number of young folks from this place in that direction.

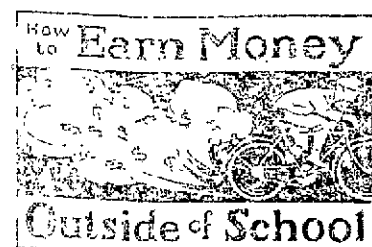

Burr, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hines, south Filbert street, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKenrick, a fine son. To say that Grandma Hines is delighted over the event is putting it rather mildly.

Mrs. Edward Drake of Huntingdon county is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Daub on Ridge avenue.

Mrs. William Twigg, Sr., is ill at the home of her daughter Mrs. John P. Iron.

Today is set apart at Grampian fair and designated as "Old Soldier" day.

Earning Money

By J. H. Miller, Director

Boys and Girls Newspaper Service

According to the American Magazine

the boy in America is the richest

boy in the world. His success is due to his happy way of accommodating people. For example, whenever

a man of importance comes to his house, Mose is at the train to hand him

the latest copy of his home paper as soon as he gets off. This one original

trick has earned wide-spread fame.

More boys earn money outside of school by selling papers than by any other way. It would pay them well to try to be real salesmen like Mose

and not just ordinary newsies.

It pays—in business, not in tips—to be accommodating. At Monroe and

Wells streets, Chicago, a courteous

salesman boy has a stand by a mail-

box. He opens the flap of that mailbox

for everybody that has a letter to mail

here. His business is good.

A boy with a smile has a dollar sign

light on his face. Last winter at Columbus Circle in New York, there was a newsstand with a heavy curtain to keep out the cold. All the customers

ever saw was a hand thrust forth from

the darkness to get his pennies. Men

have walked a block to avoid buying a paper there. It would pay the dealer

well to clad himself in a warm overcoat

and a warmer smile, and look the public

squarely in the eye. After all, smiles

are not very common on the street.

Next week the newsboy that has one is

so quickly noticed.

It pays a newsboy, just as it pays any other salesman, to be clean and neat.

More a man has walked across the

street to lay a power from a clean,

neatly kept car, although right by him

there was a dirty, arching shouting at the top of his voice the headlines of his newspaper.

These hints are simply little things,

but they are salesmanship. They mean

money.

(This series comes every Friday.

Read it and make money on Saturday.

Next week the newsboy that has one is

so quickly noticed.)

FARMERS SHOULD MAKE USE

OF MANURE

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—Loss to

Pennsylvania farmers, through the

careless handling of manure, aggre-

gates thousands of dollars, the Department of Agriculture declared in a statement issued recently.

Compared with the prices of fertilizer, the manure accumulating in Pennsylvania during a year is worth

$37,750,000, the department claims.

In some sections of the state, it is held, farmers are ignoring the department's advice concerning the value of

the fertilizer and allowing it to accumulate without intending to use it.

Instances have come to the attention

of the department where farmers have allowed fertilizer companies to have

the manure for their trouble in hauling it away.

When mother drives the auto, Dad,

why does she make so much noise with

the gears? You never do.

Well, sonny, when she shifts gears,

she does not give the clutch-shaft time

to stop spinning.

What is the clutch-shaft, Dad?

It's this short shaft here between the

clutch and the gear-box. (See drawing.)

It's put in there so that you can dis-

connect the engine to shift from one

speed to another. By pressing the clutch pedal and moving the gear lever

you really disconnect the clutch-shaft

at both ends. Otherwise you couldn't

shift gears without smashing something

See here. When you push down the

clutch pedal, you release the clutch-

shaft from the clutch so that the engine is running free. And so, when the

clutch is out and the gear lever is in neutral, the clutch-shaft stands still because the rear end is not meshed with any gears in the gear-box. When you

move the lever into first speed, or second, or third, you are re-meshing the clutch-shaft with one or another. That's what makes the noise.

Our mother makes the gears cluttered because she has not learned by feeling

how long to hold the lever in neutral to let the disconnected clutch-shaft stop.

But, Dad, why do you have to shift

gears?

Because gasoline engines have little

power when they run slowly. In first

speed for high gears, the engine shaft

revolves about 10 times while the rear

axle shaft revolves once. If the car is

such a gear ratio would make the motor

run so slowly that it would have scarcely any power. And so for starting and

hard pulls, the car has a first speed to keep at it which enables it to make a mile or two in 15 or 20 revolutions and over the axle once. Then it has

power. Second speed is halfway between the other two.

Autumn's Authentic Dress Modes Abound

If you would achieve individuality in dress choose from these.

New Coats for Ladies and Misses in the beautiful new Frost glows, silvertones, velours, broadcloths, duvetyne, browns, reindeer, tans, morocco, oxfords and Pekins are the leading shades.

We have them here to suit every possible type of woman. The materials and the workmanship on these coats is beyond the ordinary while the prices are of the live and let live kind. $6.50 to $85.00

Autumn's most gorgeous moods are reflected in the beautiful colors which add charm and character to these newest offering in Junior styles.

Sizes 15, 17 and 19, smart coat styles suitable for young ladies are made of velours, kerseys and chevots. The prices range from $16.50 to $50.00

Oh! Yes We Have Fur Fabric Coats

Made of Yukon and Baffin Seal fur, which are the finest grades of silk plush—resembling Hudson Seal Fur. Short sport models—real snappy things these prices ranging from $48.50 to $85.00

SALT'S SEAL PLUSH COATS

Lined throughout with plain and fancy silk linings. Sufficient warmth here to brave the most bitter winter winds $25.00 to $50.00

We Specialize On Fine Suits For Ladies

These suits—the product of the best world wide recognized creators—are sold in Clearfield only at the Leitzinger Store.

Suits for afternoon wear—the period of transition has come and women are going from afternoon dresses to afternoon suits. These suits are dressy, in fact they may grace the most dignified and formal of social functions. They are made of serge, tricelines, velours and broadcloths. The leading shades are navy, black, French blue, Java, reindeer and taupe. They are lined and interlined with beautiful silk, figured to harmonize with the color of the suits.

Fur trimming further enhances some of these suits—natural squirrel, mole, Hudson seal and nutria are used in sufficient quantities to give warmth for severe winter use. All our suits are marked at a very small margin of profit for quick sale, priced at $22.50 to $85.00

"Clever" The One Word Describing These Hats

Dressy models trimmed with blending, burnt goose and ostrich trimmings. These alone are worth a special trip to this store to see.

Jet and Beaver models are the rage in the cities now. We have them on display.

Top Coats Are Full and Soft

Already coats for winter, both in cloth and fur, have passed and are daily passing in review before merchants and buyers and reporters who publish the styles. Certainly no winter was ever heralded by more comfortable or more becoming garments. They are fuller than last year's models and the same materials that were so successful then are used to make them. Duvetyne, velours and similar cloths appear in lighter weights than last year so that top coats and suits may be full and draped without being clumsy. This ampleness of cloth makes the top coat easy to slip on and off and adds to its warmth, and there is room under it for painters and other arrangements of drapery for wide hip effects. These are fairly well established in the styles and must be reckoned with. Heavy homespun are used in some of the handsome and practical new models.

Collars are either of fur or of the cloth in the coat. They are very cozy looking in either case. The fur collars are wide and fit snugly, coming up about the face and chin and very high at the back. The cloth collars are managed so as to give the same effect of coziness with the face snugly closed down into them; very often they have a small cape across the front and become a small cape when unbuttoned.

The coat shown in the picture is a good example of the new styles in substantial and practical top coats. It is of heavy cloth and therefore not as full as dressing models. Its narrow belt of the cloth fastens at one side, and its very odd and smart cuffs are finished with a single large button. The pockets are set in. This coat is long and reaches to within six inches of the bottom of the dress skirt, which is almost fasten length. Its collar could hardly be improved upon. For street wear or motoring or as a steamer coat this model may be worn with assurance. And the silk hat trimmed with flared ribbon that bears its company is of just the same character as the coat.

SCHOOL NOTES

Thursday morning cheer leaders were elected. Harry Cochrane '20 was elected chief with Allen Rockwell '20 and William Ammerman '21 as assistants.

Coach Heisey made a plea for more football material Thursday. Probably the boys think one scrimmage a week with green material isn't enough for a team. In some cases it was the first and only scrimmage the boys had been in and they generally need all the experience they can get.

"Les" Bowes former star on the C. H. S. team and E. Shirey are helping the coach whip the "greenies" into shape. Tuesday evening Mgr. Ventres had his crew to work putting up the goal posts.

Margaret Jane Overly received a bad cut on the hand Wednesday afternoon. She accidentally ran into one of the glass doors.

The Juniors have selected their class pins and rings.

Students are selling tickets for the Johnsonburg game Saturday. By the number of tags everybody will be there.

Laboratory work started this week in the science department.

In England it is possible to insure yourself against your daughter making an undesirable marriage, against your son taking to drink or dissipation, against your wife running away, or, if she is insane, against her recovering her sanity and cutting you out of her will.

MAGNATE PUTS UP
FINE EXHIBITION

The wrestling bout at the Friendly Two Hall, under the auspices of Manager Davis, of the Clearfield Athletic Club, attracted a fair sized crowd of local sports last evening, and they well repaid for their attendance.

In addition to the main bout of the evening, four preliminaries were put on, and each contest was well worth seeing.

The Meise boys, 115 pound midgets, were first on the card, and these lads, who have only been in training about three months, gave a very good account of themselves in a ten minute bout.

Crebs and Leonard, 135 pound contenders, were the next pair to go to it, and these lads wrestled a whirlwind draw in ten minutes. These boys were up to all the fine points of the game, and gave a very creditable exhibition.

Beck and Cornelius, a husky pair of 150 pounders, then hopped onto the mat and hugged and tugged each other about the "squared circle" in a manner which brought the spectators to their feet in their excitement. The Woodland "fog horn" blew constantly during this battle and added to the fun and excitement of the occasion. The boys were pretty evenly matched and neither was able to gain a fall during the ten minutes they were working.

The final preliminary was a boxing match between "Battling Bennoch", the Third Ward terror, and "Lanky Lanager", of the Fourth Ward. Lanky was a little heavy for the "batter" but the boys put up a stirring three round bout and were loudly cheered when Referee Edwards announced the contest a draw.

The main card of the evening was the wrestling match between Bill Gardner, Clearfield's unbeatable champion, and Harry Mayo, of Altoona, who claims the 145 pound championship of the U. S. Navy, having been a member of the crew of the U. S. Battleship Massachusetts, during the war.

Manager Bennett made a little address before the bout, in which he introduced his man Mayo to the audience and recited the victories he had won during his career.

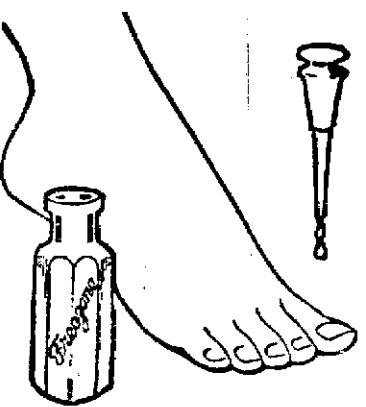

After calling the men to the centre of the ring, Referee Edwards instructed them as to the rules of the contest and at the call of time told them to go to it. They immediately grappled and inside of half a minute, Gardner yanked the Blair County grappler off his feet and raising him over his head, threw him to the mat with a crash, which took all the pep out of the sailor. He was game however, and struggled manfully, but securing a double bar lock, Gardner twisted him over, and in a little less than ten minutes, pinned his shoulders to the canvas.

After a seven minute rest, the men went on again, but the second round was simply a repetition of the first, only more so. Gardner handled his adversary exactly the same way, and dumped him so hard to the mat that he lost all interest in the game, and Gardner won the second fall in three minutes and forty seven seconds, while the crowd went wild over his victory.

Gardner demonstrated once more in this contest, that he is a corner, and able to hold his own with the very best of his weight. He simply outclassed the Altoona man, who never had a chance with him.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No hump!
